

WEATHER INDICATIONS. WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—For the Middle States, rain and snow, followed to-night by decidedly colder north to west winds, partly cloudy weather, and rising barometer.

CONGRESS. Proceedings in the House. In the Senate Mr. Logan introduced a bill to authorize the appointment of General Grant on the retired list. The bill was read at length on the request of Mr. Conkling.

It authorizes his appointment to the retired list with the rank and full pay of general of the army. The second section authorizes the president, when he shall consider an emergency arising requiring the services of General Grant, to assign him to any command commensurate with the rank of general. Referred to the committee on military affairs.

On the expiration of the morning hour Mr. McDonald spoke at length on the bill for the relief of Ben Halliday. At 1:45 the House went into committee on the Indian appropriation bill. Proceedings in the House. In the House, among the bills introduced to-day was one by Mr. Buckner, requesting the president to open negotiations with Mexico or Central America for cession to the United States of territory for voluntary colonization of the colored population of the United States.

MARY O'CONNOR'S TRIAL. For the Murder of Her Three Children. JERSEY CITY, Jan. 10.—The trial of Mary O'Connor, charged with the murder of her three children in July last, was commenced this morning. The judge notified the jury that they would be confined to the jury until they had agreed upon a verdict.

The district attorney then opened the case by reciting the circumstances of the murder. He said that during the night of the murder Mary O'Connor hid a large carving-knife under her pillow, but finding it not sharp enough, went into another room where her husband kept his razor and returned with it to the room where her four children slept. Approaching the youngest, Edward, a boy three years old, she cut his throat and also that of Francis, who slept in the crib with Edward. She next went to the bed where Patrick and John slept, and cut Patrick's throat, but his terrible struggles awoke John, who escaped, crying "murder." The cries awoke his father, who seeing what his wife had done went to the window and called the police.

The first witness called was the son, who testified to the circumstances detailed above.

THE FLAMES. Big Fire in St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10.—Fire last night destroyed the restaurant, and row of one-story shops and saloons on Broadway. From these it spread to the extensive buildings of the Broadway foundry, and the establishment was soon in flames.

Senator Torbert's Residence Burned. POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—The residence of ex-Senator W. L. Torbert, which was known as the Girard mansion, at Girard Manor, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday. Nearly all the furniture and valuables were saved. Loss, $10,000; fully insured. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

Perished in the Flames. UNDERWOOD, Ont., Jan. 10.—Mrs. McLean's dwelling was burned to-day. She perished in the flames and other members of the family were seriously burned.

A Glimpse at the New Treaty. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Hon. John Swift, one of the commissioners to negotiate a treaty with China, says that in addition to points already published the treaty contains a clause reserving to the United States the right to terminate at any time the residence of Chinese laborers in this country. It was also tacitly understood that Chinese cannot be naturalized in the United States, and that naturalizations already accomplished, shall be considered null and void.

Startling Loss Last at Sea. On December 13th the Japanese coasting steamer foundered in the inland sea and sixty-four lives were lost.

NO MEETING. Reading, "Oats" Reconstituted and Retire. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—No annual meeting of the Philadelphia Reading stockholders was held to-day. Messrs. Bullitt, McCook, Smith and other members of the opposition to the present management, visited the office of the company and the Musical Fund hall, and, after ascertaining that no meeting would be called, they retired.

Nominated for Inspector General. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Hayes to-day sent to the Senate the name of Col. Delos B. Sackett to be senior inspector general, with the rank of brigadier general. Among the other nominations made to-day was John G. McCaleb to be postmaster at Mount Pleasant, Pa.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT. Sunday morning about half-past one o'clock, as a freight train west, drawn by engine 90, was passing the Lemon street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad, three cars were thrown from the track, the accident being caused, as is supposed, by the falling of a "finger beam" which, catching in one of the "frogs," lifted the track and cars of course followed it. The wreck blocked up the south track of the railway, and when engine 359 came east soon afterwards, it ran into the wreck. The cylinder head of the engine was broken and it was otherwise pretty badly damaged. The wreckers of Columbia were sent for, and by 8 o'clock a. m., had the track clear. Nobody was hurt by the accident.

THE LOCAL DEMOCRACY. A number of well-known Democrats of the city met at the Stevens house Saturday evening, being the 6th anniversary of Jackson's victory at New Orleans, for the purpose of considering the organization of a permanent Jeffersonian club. J. L. Steinmetz, esq., was elected temporary chairman and Wm. T. Jeffries, secretary. After some informal discussion a committee consisting of Messrs. Steinmetz, M. Steinman and Peter McConomy was appointed to inquire and report upon the matter of securing permanent quarters, and the meeting adjourned till Thursday evening next at 8 o'clock, at the same place.

A Surprise Party at Steamtown. On Thursday evening a party of ladies, numbering some forty odd, called on Mrs. Ellen Zell, widow, residing in Steamtown, and who was known to be in destitute circumstances, and supplied the family with a goodly store of the necessities of life, such as flour, meat, potatoes, clothing, etc. Messrs. U. E. Bennett and George M. Steinman, who were present, collected upwards of seven dollars for the purchase of coal. The gentlemen and ladies who took part in this surprise, as well as those who contributed thereto, are to be congratulated for their kindness and liberality shown on this occasion.

Sunday School Banks Robbed. It has been ascertained that the small saving banks, belonging to the Sunday school of St. John's Lutheran church, were opened and robbed a few days ago. Each class has a bank in which the money is placed; these banks have been kept in the church, and the keys were in the cupboard. It is supposed that some one entered the church and unlocked the bank during the absence of the janitor. It is not known how much money was taken, but it probably amounted to six or eight dollars.

THE HOMOEOPATHS. Meeting of their Medical Society. A meeting of the Homoeopathic medical society of Lancaster and York counties was held on Tuesday last at the office of Dr. F. Frantz, in this city. The meeting was well represented by members of both counties. Several sporadic cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever of a severe type were reported existing in western and northern portions of this county, and an unusually large number of cases of pneumonia and catarrhs. The meeting adjourned to meet at Columbia April 13.

A Double Funeral. This morning there was a double funeral from St. Joseph's hospital, the deceased being Benedict Boese, aged 81 years, and Zafeno Fry, aged 70 years, both being buried at the hospital. The interment took place at St. Joseph's cemetery.

Houses to be Erected. Urban & Bargar have purchased of Philip D. Baker, esq., the property on the east side of South Queen street, between Hazel and Andrew, known as the Sprenger property. They intend to erect seven houses on the ground.

Increase of Business. The amount of money realized by the sale of tickets for the Pennsylvania railroad passenger depot in this city was $11,388.55, larger during 1880 than 1879.

On File. The annual report of the pauper directors has been filed in the register's office.

Patents. The card of Messrs. M. Rohrer & Son, solicitors of patents, 509 Seventh street, Washington, D. C., is elsewhere published. Mr. Rohrer is a native and former resident of Lancaster county, and the inventor of the details of the patent office, gained by his present residence in the capital city, constitutes a valuable adjunct to the practice of his profession.

Physiology Study. The class for study of Physiology will have its monthly meeting on Wednesday evening, in Y. M. C. A. hall. Class is still open for work in members.

The queen of medicinal and toilet soaps, the fragrant Cuticura. Prevent weakness and degeneration of the kidneys and urinary organs—Mild Bitters.

PROGNOSTIC. There is no surer indication of the coming of spring, than to see a small boy, whose chief article of clothing is a pair of trousers, looking for a mud puddle to swim in, and to see a girl, whose chief article of clothing is a pair of shoes, looking for a mud puddle to splash in.

DEATHS. In Reading on the 8th inst., Charles, son of Philip and Elizabeth Lohrer, aged 12 years. The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend a funeral from the Evangelical Lutheran church, on Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Interment at Lancaster cemetery. 2018

PUBLIC SALE OF VALUABLE CITY PROPERTY. On MONDAY, JANUARY 11, 1881, the undersigned executor of the will of George Albright, dec'd., will sell at public sale the following described property: No. 1. All that valuable lot of ground situated at the corner of East Chestnut street and Cherry alley (No. 39), containing 17,000 feet of Chestnut street 25 feet, more or less, and extending eastward 25 feet, more or less, to the lot of Mrs. Mary Ann, on said lot are erected one-story BRICK DWELLING HOUSE and Back Store, a Frame Shop, and other outbuildings. There are a number of fruit trees, grape vines, &c., on the lot. No. 2. A lot of ground adjoining No. 1, on the east and property of William Hensel on the west, containing in front on Chestnut street 28 feet, more or less, extending southward same depth as No. 1 to Market alley, on which is erected a one-story BRICK DWELLING HOUSE, Frame Shop and other outbuildings. There are also valuable fruit trees, &c., on the lot, and a hydrant and never-failing well of water.

No. 3. Lot of ground fronting on Arch alley, adjoining St. John's Lutheran church property on the north, and property of H. Deer on the south, and extending eastward 22 feet, more or less, to property of H. Deer. This lot has a front of 25 feet, more or less, and is erected a one-story FRAME DWELLING HOUSE, with good dry cellar. There is also a well of water, and a pump and never-failing well of water. Sale to commence at 10 o'clock p. m. on said day when conditions will be made known by JOHN B. A. LITTLER, Executor of Will of Geo. Albright, dec'd., 1117 Arch street, Philadelphia. Jan 10-26-81

DEMANDED AND REFUSED. Treasurer Welchans Won't Let Treasurer Shirk In. W. S. Shirk, appointed city treasurer by council, and City Solicitor Landis, waited on City Treasurer Welchans, suspended by council, in this afternoon, and delivered to him a paper reading as follows: "DEAR SIR: Having been duly elected treasurer of the City of Lancaster and having been duly qualified, I hereby demand that you forthwith deliver over to me all the books, papers, vouchers, moneys and other property that you may have in possession, the same being the property of the City of Lancaster, and that you immediately leave the room or office now occupied by you and surrender the same to me as city treasurer. W. S. SHIRK." LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 10, 1881. Mr. Welchans said: "I am treasurer of the city of Lancaster and I am here to protect my own money."

DEATHS. At the First Reformed church yesterday Brothers John B. Roth and John Kepner were duly ordained as elders of the church, and Brothers Eugene G. Smith and Ernest Zahn as Deacons.

Deaths Recorded. The county recorder reports that all deeds, releases and other papers left at his office have been recorded up to the 1st of January, 1881, and those persons entitled to them are requested to call and take them away.

Sale of Tobacco. George Fisher, of Manor township, has sold one acre of tobacco to Mr. Altschue, for 21, 8 and 3 cents. It is a large tobacco but by no means free from flea-bite.

ANOTHER VICTIM. THAT LITTLE CONFIDENCE GAME. A Manheim Driver is Sueted out of $145 by Two Philadelphia sharpers—A Fruitless search. Pottsville Ledger.

Abram Longaker, of Manheim, Lancaster county, is a dealer in cattle and had taken a load of stock to a West Philadelphia drove yard on Thursday, where he sold them, receiving cash to a considerable amount. He remained at a hotel near the yard over night and during the greater part of the evening sat in the barroom talking with fellow drivers, and the sharpers who victimized him doubtless learned all about his affairs, and the condition of his pocket-book from his own talk. On Friday afternoon he started for home, and he was waiting at the Broad and Calowhill depot of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad company, a gentleman, dressed as a well-to-do farmer, accosted him with, "How are you, Mr. Longaker?" The Manheim driver was not a little nonplussed, but it soon transpired in the conversation which followed that the person addressing him was Jacob Penmore, of Colorado, an extensive dealer in stock, who had just disposed of a lot of western cattle in the Philadelphia markets. He also made it known that he was a brother of Mr. Penmore, of Lancaster, a gentleman with whom our friend Longaker was well acquainted, and he was going to Lancaster to stay a few days with him, before leaving for the West. Penmore was very chatty and revealed an extensive knowledge of business in the manner of raising stock, and the best breeds to deal in, and kindred matters, completely winning the good graces of Longaker, who was a good-natured Pennsylvania Dutchman.

"By the way, Mr. Longaker," continued Penmore, "this train leaves in half an hour and I left my trunk and a valise with $400 in gold at my hotel a few squares distant; would you mind taking a walk around with me until I get there, for I don't feel safe when they are out of my sight in a place like this."

The two walked down 13th street and when near Vine street they were met by a man, who slipped under the arm of Penmore and who was introduced as Mr. Blank. "I knew you would be in a hurry, Jake," said Blank, "so I sent an express man with your valise and trunk to the depot; but as I can't go to Lancaster with you, I wish you would pay me those $200 you owe me."

Penmore searched his pockets and produced $155, and said that that was all he had on his person, but if he would go with him to the depot he would give him the balance. "I haven't time," said Blank, "but perhaps Mr. Longaker can let you have the $45 until you get your valise."

And Longaker, counting $45 and handing it over, the $200 claim being settled, Blank insisted on one of $100 being paid, but Penmore refused unless Blank would go to the depot with him, and again Longaker was appealed to, who, after protesting that both were strangers to him, gave the additional $100. To divert suspicion Penmore gave him a check for $802, drawn on the First National bank of New York and a $1,000 U. S. government bond as collateral security until "they reached the depot." Both were spurious of course, but the verdant Manheim man swallowed the bait.

A little business about a wagon took both of the sharpers away and giving Longaker a sunny smile to take to the depot, Penmore said he would meet him at the train and told him to "take good care of the cabba, as valuable clothing was inside."

It is needless to say that Penmore and Blank failed to put in an appearance at the depot. It finally dawned on the Manheim man that he had been cheated, and on opening the valise in his hand, found no coats or valuable clothing, but some old dirty shirts and a worn-out hat. He told special officer Gray who is stationed in the depot uniformed, who went with the troubled Dutchman to the central station. Longaker gave the policeman $3 to get home with the clothes, but the steward was told to the people in the car on an evening train, and the Teuton's lamentable tale was the absorbing topic for the time.

THE BUZZARDS. Two of the Brothers With Their Companions Again in Trouble. Abe Buzzard, Diller Clarke, Joe Buzzard and Henry Hoover, four residents of the Welsh mountains, were arrested near Ephrata by Constable Slinger and several citizens, on Saturday. They were taken before Squire Seltzer, and were held for a hearing on a charge of burglary preferred against them by Rhesa Swelgert, of West Earl township. The men were unable to procure bail, and they were brought to this city and lodged in prison. Although these men were committed on this charge it is believed that they have been concerned in a number of other burglaries in the northern part of this county.

Of the Buzzard family there are three members now in jail. Jake's term of five years, for burglary, will expire some time in February. Ike and Mart are both at large, but the latter has greatly reformed in the last few years and does not get into any more scrapes.

The New Treasurer's Bond. Pursuant to adjournment of the previous evening city council met to-day, to evening for the purpose of approving the bond of William S. Shirk, appointed city treasurer during the suspension of Edward Welchans. In common council, Mr. Barnes, from the Finance Committee, reported the bond, a voluminous document, which was read at length. It bears the names of J. S. Shirk and Christian Leffer as sureties in the sum of $50,000. On Mr. Barnes's motion, the bond was approved, and it was then taken into select council, where it was also read and approved. The business being satisfactorily terminated, council adjourned. Mayor MacGonigle also approved the bond.

A Large Funeral. The funeral of Thomas D. Kelly yesterday, from his late residence at No. 120, East Orange street, was largely attended despite the inclement weather and dangerously slippery condition of the sidewalks. A body of Free Masons walked in the procession and conducted the rites at the grave. Mr. K.'s body was interred in the Lancaster cemetery.

The pall bearers at this occasion were Samuel Barnes, the Finance Committee, and John F. Echtermarch, of lodge No. 43, A. Y. M., and John M. Amweg, Aug. Bischoff and Wm. A. Morton, of Lambert lodge, No. 476.

Musical Convention. This afternoon Miss Leila Baur, Miss Mary Shambie, Miss Alice Troyer, Miss Caroline Ketter and Mr. Edw. lung, Ketter left Lancaster to attend a musical convention at Freeburg, Snyder county, to be conducted by Prof. Morey. The convention will continue all week. We can promise our Snyder county friends a musical treat. Miss Baur and Miss Troyer, have finely cultivated soprano voices, and Miss Shambie, a contralto voice of equal merit. Miss Ketter is a fine pianist, and Mr. Ketter stands in the front rank of violinists.

Warehouse Robbed. The Pennsylvania railroad company's warehouse at Leaman Place was broken into and robbed of some store goods in storage there. Several boxes of raisins and a box of plug tobacco were believed to have been the only things taken.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. Rev. Dr. Spaulding, of York, officiated yesterday in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Richard C. Searing, pastor of the church, was in attendance at the church convention. The Citizens' band will give a dance in Desch's hall on Friday evening, the 14th inst. The mercury points to 39°. If that Dakota wave reaches here to-night there will be a big fall. Sleighting is still good despite all the recent thaws and rains. The labor of the horse, however, is great. Edward R. Black, of the Pennsylvania railroad is in town to-day. Engine No. 160 is in the shop. No. 326 is running the jerk-water. Freight was very heavy last night. It is compelled to raise more than ordinary precaution. The pavements are as slippery as can be with a covering of sleet, which fell last night, and as a consequence the walking is anything but good. The regular meeting of the teachers' institute, which should have been held on Saturday last, was postponed until next Saturday, by reason of the lateness of the issuing of the programme of exercises. The daughter of William Reese, died on Saturday afternoon of consumption, aged 23 years. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Protracted services will be held during this week in the M. E. church. These services generally attract large congregations. The services on Saturday evening, in the Bethel church, at Seventh and Walnut streets, closed the week of prayer, in which the Protestant churches of Columbia, excepting St. Paul's Episcopal, had been engaged. The attendance during the week, at most of the churches, was good and the services were conducted in a spirited manner. The new tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad company between Downingtown and Glenloch will be made in a very short time. The recent heavy snow, which in that locality was much lighter than elsewhere, worked considerably, or the connection, it is thought, would have been made before this. When the new line is opened the track between the points named will be much straighter than they now are and many curves, hard to turn by heavy loaded freight trains, on the steep grade, will be avoided. The sooner the connections are made the better will the freight men be satisfied. W. H. Given, esq., trustee of Mrs. Annie Hensel, of this city, died on Saturday at the Franklin house on Saturday evening, the property adjoining the public school building, on Cherry street below Fifth, but the property was withdrawn at a bid of $2,700. A religious party of about thirty persons had intended driving to the Stevens house at Lancaster this evening, but the drive has been put off until to-morrow evening.

Attempted Burglary. A bold attempt at burglary was made at Lane's store, East King street, late Friday night or early Saturday morning, though the marks of the burglar were not detected until Saturday afternoon. All the doors and windows in the rear of Lane's store are iron-clad with boiler iron and secured inside with heavy wrought iron bolts. It was one of these doors that the burglar attacked, and he appears to have succeeded in getting into the store, after bending and twisting the iron sheathing in all directions he succeeded in breaking the heavy bolts and forcing the door. But evidently he was not prepared to contend with the tools, for all his labor he had only succeeded in getting into the feather room, a small square brick structure, adjoining the main building, but having no entrance into it, he was obliged to retreat.
